

Weekly newsletter: 23rd November 2018

Important dates

26th November – Inset day – children not in school

29th November – flu jabs. Letters/forms have been sent out. Please return even if you don't want your child to receive the vaccination.

30th November – Deadline for photos. We would like to decorate the dining room for Christmas. If you have any spare Christmas decorations, please could you bring them into school on or before this date.

News from Pioneers

Pioneers have been really enjoying their new book – “The Dragon Snatcher” by M P Robertson. They have also learnt how to draw a self-portrait of their own face – look out for their works of art on the wall next week!

Many thanks to those who came to the rehearsal last Saturday for the Guildhall Christmas Concert – they did a great job. We have another rehearsal next Saturday 1st December. If you would like tickets for this event please go direct to the Guildhall box office.

Dates for you diary:

Tuesday 4th December 7pm – Guildhall Christmas Concert.

Friday 7th December – Teddy Bear Concert at Central Hall – the children need to bring their own teddy bear for this amazing music concert. More details to follow.

News from Explorers

We have had great 2 weeks learning about Rosie and her journey. We have finished our topic this week by making some jam sandwiches and writing instructions for other people, and of course we ate them!

Next week we start 2 weeks on the text “Stick man” by Julia Donaldson. It is another journey story and ends with a magical visitor which will tie in nicely for December.

On Tuesday 27th we are going to visit the local park and collect sticks and maybe have a play on the equipment to develop our gross motor skills.

The children are doing really well learning songs and dances for our nativity performance “Lights Camel Action”, we cannot wait to show you our moves!
