News from Pioneers

Pioneers have been enjoying their new book – “Lost in the Toy Museum.” We have been talking about what museums are for. If you get the chance to take your child to one such as Tudor House Museum that would be great. It has a special exhibit on at the moment called “Playtime in the Past.” We are creating our very own toy museum which will be open next Friday 29th March from 3.15 pm. Posters and invites are on their way! Please come to the classroom to collect your child and then take them to the dining room which is where our toy museum will be set up. Once you have enjoyed the experience feel free to take your child home.

We have sent home (Thursday) new Phase 3 and Phase 5 sound mats for everyone – do hope that they help with reading and spelling.

Many thanks

News from Explorers

We have been so busy in Explorers this week looking at the life cycle of a chick and writing about this too as well as thinking about what other animals come from eggs. This is the second part of our Egg-cellent Eggs topic. We have enjoyed reading the books "Egg Drop" by Mini Grey and "The Odd Egg" by Emily Gravett.

We learned our last year R digraph this week which was "er". See if you child can remember this one and spot it in any stories you read (as well as the other digraphs and trigraphs we have learned!)

Thank you so much for sending in more junk for our junk modelling box. We now have lots and lots so will be busy making super models again! We have been learning about shapes (2D and 3D) in maths this week so if your child does bring home a model made with junk you could try asking them which 3D shapes the boxes are that they have used. Or try asking them to find objects that are cubes, cuboids, cylinders or cones around the home.

As always please remember your child's reading book on a Monday to read with their teacher and PE kit for Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Also please remember as we approach Mother's Day we would love you to send in a photo of your child with their Mummy so we can use these to chat about why Mummies are special. Many thanks.
