News from Pioneers

Pioneers have amazed me this week with their knowledge of the Great Fire of London! Well done! Thanks for your support from home too. Look out for the new "Big Writes" on the washing line! The children are also now very confident using numbers to 100. They can count, write, recognise, order, build or draw (thinking about tens and ones) and recognise patterns. Please could you keep practising counting in 5s to 60 as this seems to be more of a challenge.

Next week we have a cricket coach coming in on Monday afternoon and we will also be looking at our new book, "The Great Paper Caper!" The following Monday morning Mr Wright will be taking the children to the local fire station to learn about modern day fire fighters and fire safety.

News from Explorers

Well, the Explorers have been so busy again this week and in true EYFS style and good practice we decided to go with the children's enjoyment and engagement and extend our "Ladybird Heard" book for one more week. We have found 2 more stories about the sneaky little ladybird who overhears everything! We have painted our own ladybirds, have a look at them hanging up in the classroom. We have really enjoyed junk modelling, and we thank you so much for your donations but we do have enough for now (although we always need bottle tops). Thank you!

Letters for our Longdown trip have gone out and we are very excited for our first real off site field trip. This is a trip Miss Pollard has done for many years with other reception classes and the welcome and learning is always second to none. The farm is a safe and secure environment and the children will have a superb day no doubt! Please get your letters and payment to the office ASAP teachers are unable to handle money in the classroom, thank you for understanding. If any of your children do get travel sick please can you notify us as soon as possible so we can discuss measures on how to keep them safe and comfortable.

Thank you as always for your support!
